PREFACE

A General Catalogue of the Seminary, compiled by the late Rev. Prof. Benjamin M. Smith, D. D., was published in 1884. Deterred, perhaps, by the scantiness and confusion of the records in regard to the thirty or more students to whom he alludes as having attended the classes of Dr. Moses Hoge from 1812 to 1820, Dr. Smith attempted no sketches of these, but confined his work to the period beginning in 1824, when the Seminary was re-organized by Dr. John Holt Rice. In the present edition, which is based on Dr. Smith's and is more indebted to that, perhaps, than to all other sources, the attempt is made to give the names of all persons who have been connected with the Seminary from its foundation by the Synod of Virginia, in 1812, to the present time, whether as trustees or professors or students. Further, for the sake of completeness and because of the peculiar value of the labors of some of them to the church, we have even included five persons whose names we find in the classes taught by Dr. Hoge from 1807 to 1812, while the Seminary was still under the care of Hanover Presbytery, and before its formal adoption by the Synod. There were probably others in this earliest period whose names we cannot now recover, and the same thing, no doubt, is true of the period from 1812 to 1823.

Since the materials are so scanty and the dates of matriculation so uncertain, it has seemed best to group these forty-four earliest students under one heading, "1807-1823," instead of giving a separate numbered sketch of each, as in the case of all students matriculating after 1823.

Moreover, it is not certain that all of these forty-four first-named men were students in the Synod's School of Theology. Some of them may have been merely candidates for the ministry in Hampden-Sidney College. There was no catalogue of the Seminary in those days, and the facts given in regard to these earliest students have been gleaned from various old records. The principal source of our information as to the matriculates from 1818 to 1822, for instance, is the minute book of the Missionary Society. The following extract from the minutes of the first meeting will indicate the character of its evidence:

"A meeting of a number of the theological students of the Synod's School at Hampden-Sidney was held on Tuesday, the 13th of January, 1818, with a view to form a society of inquiry on the subject of missions. Present: Robert N. Anderson, John O. Baker, James H. Brooks, John N. Gordon, Wm. Hammersly, James G. Hamner, Rev. Sam'l D. Hoge, Benj. Hutchison, Thomas P. Hunt, James H. C. Leach, Joseph Nimmo, Wm. H. Pollard and David Smith."

It will be observed that this states that the men named were theological students in the Synod's School. There can, therefore, be no doubt about them. The minutes of subsequent meetings, down to 1822, furnish the names and dates of twenty-two others, besides the charter members named in the extract above given, so that as already stated, we have recovered forty-four names in all for the period extending from 1807 to 1822. We have followed the history of these men, whenever possible, in Presbyterial and other records, and by corresponding with their descendants and others. But after all is done, the record of these early students remains a meager one.

The task of supplementing the sketches of the alumni who were still living when the General Catalogue of 1884 was published, and of gathering the materials needed for sketches of those who have entered the Seminary since that time, has, of course, been a heavy one, but it has been lightened by the cheerful co-operation of a great number of long-suffering clerks of Presbyteries and Synods, by the uniform courtesy of the editors of our church papers, and by the kind assistance of many of our alumni and others who love the Seminary, to all of whom we would express our grateful appreciation.

A general catalogue is a book of statistics. A book of statistics is peculiarly liable to misprints and mistakes of other kinds. In spite of all vigilance and care, some errors will occur. We shall be glad to receive corrections of any errors which may be observed in this volume, and we shall welcome any information that will be of use in future editions. Every scrap of such information will be filed and preserved, with a view to enabling the compilers of the next edition to make their sketches as exact and complete as possible.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The Presbyterian Church in America was composed originally of emigrants from Great Britain and Ireland, and for many years the ministers of their various congregations were drawn from beyond the seas. As the Church grew, however, and the population of the country increased, the supply thus obtained proved to be inadequate and the necessity for a native ministry became more and more apparent. Academies and colleges were accordingly established from time to time during the 18th century at various places, such as Princeton, Lexington and Hampden-Sidney; and the candidates educated in these institutions received their theological training by serving a sort of apprenticeship under approved divines here and there throughout the country. But this plan, also, was presently seen to be inadequate, especially after the great revivals of 1799-1804, and it became apparent that the only way in which the demand could be met was to organize regular institutions for theological education.

I. The Beginning, 1806–1823.

In April, 1806, "The Presbytery of Hanover taking into consideration the deplorable state of our country in regard to religious instruction, the very small number of ministers possessing the qualifications required by the Scriptures and the prevalence of ignorance and error, on motion, resolved:

1. That an attempt be made to establish at Hampden-Sidney College a complete theological library for the benefit of students in divinity.

2. That an attempt be also made to establish a fund for the educating of poor and pious youth for the ministry of the gospel.

3. That the Rev. Messrs. Archibald Alexander, Matthew

Lyle, Conrad Speece, John H. Rice, Major James Morton, Major Robert Quarles and Mr. James Daniel be a Standing Committee to manage this business and make report to Presbytery at its usual meetings.

4. That whatever funds are raised by the Committee shall be vested in the trustees of Hampden-Sidney College. The appropriation of all such funds, however, shall forever remain with the Presbytery."

On the 30th of April, 1806, this Committee met and appointed Mr. Rice a special agent to solicit donations in books and money for the objects proposed throughout the whole State; upon which he repaired to Richmond and afterwards proceeded to Norfolk to secure the desired aid in behalf of the infant institution, and by the spring of 1807, funds to the amount of $2,500 were raised for this purpose. In the same year, the presidency of Hampden-Sidney College becoming vacant by the removal of Rev. Archibald Alexander to Philadelphia, Rev. Moses Hoge, of Shepherdstown, Va., was unanimously chosen to fill the vacant office. The vote of the trustees was accompanied by pressing letters from the brethren of the Presbytery, one of whom, himself a trustee of the College, says: "What I wish to present to you for your serious consideration is the importance of our theological school. For some years to come the head of the theological school must be the president of Hampden-Sidney College. Now, the eyes of all who are, at the same time, friends of this institution and acquaintances of yours, are directed to you as the fittest person in the compass of their knowledge for a professor of divinity." His biographer states that "The prospect of usefulness which seemed to be extended before him by the projected establishment of a theological seminary at Hampden-Sidney was, as he repeatedly informed his friends, the reason why he decided to remove thither." In a letter, dated January, 1810, Dr. Hoge says: "It was chiefly from a regard to a theological seminary lately established at this place that I was induced to accept the presidency of Hampden-Sidney College. Of that seminary you have probably seen some account in the public prints. It has already been useful, and will, there is reason to expect, continue to be so for ages to come." In August, 1812, he writes: "We have now nine or ten who intend to preach the gospel, and about the same number of my alumni are now preaching." It is clear, therefore, that the Seminary was already in existence and doing good work even before the formal action of the Synod of Virginia in 1812. But in that year the Synod "Unanimously resolved on the establishment of a theological seminary and unanimously concurred in the appointment of Dr. Hoge as their professor," and thus, as his biographer states it, "The seminary instituted by the Synod embosomed the project of the Presbytery of Hanover."* Satisfactory arrangements were made with the trustees of the College, by which Dr. Hoge could perform the duties of both the presidency and the professorship of theology, and for the remaining eight years of his life he prosecuted the work with signal ability and success, sending more than thirty young men from his classes into the ministry.

Dr. Hoge died in the summer of 1820, and at the following meeting of Synod, Dr. Archibald Alexander was appointed to succeed him as professor of theology. Dr. Alexander declined the appointment, and the Synod, after trying in vain for two years to fill the place (a task rendered the more difficult, doubtless, by the fact that Dr. Hoge's successor in the presidency of the College, was a layman), transferred the Seminary, with the funds which had been collected, to the Presbytery of Hanover, in trust, to hold the same for the object of its founders under its own management, but subject to the supervision and control of the Synod, and in obedience to the call of the Moderator, the Presbytery now met at Prince Edward on the 16th of November, 1822, to accept the trust and make the necessary arrangements for carrying it into execution. That Presbytery, which then included nearly all of eastern Virginia, had, as we have seen, projected a theological school even before the Synod had taken the steps above described, and had collected a small sum for the support of it. This was now added to the funds transferred to them by the Synod, and the Presbytery, having resolved to re-organize the Seminary, and having appointed a new Board of Trustees for it, proceeded to make choice of a professor; and, having solemnly invoked the direction of Almighty God, unanimously elected the Rev. John Holt Rice, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Richmond, to the office.*

Dr. Rice had just been elected to the presidency of Nassau Hall (Princeton College). After mature deliberation, he declined the call to New Jersey, though at a great pecuniary sacrifice, and, some months later, on June 2, 1823, he announced his acceptance of the Presbytery's appointment to the work in Prince Edward. He was then recovering from a severe and protracted illness, and, with a view to recruiting his health, he made a journey by sea to New York, travelling thence to Saratoga Springs and other points, and improving the opportunity thus afforded to raise additional funds for the proposed Seminary, in Albany, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Fredericksburg and other places, and therefore did not reach Hampden-Sidney till the autumn. Finding that no accommodations had yet been provided for him, he accepted the invitation of President Cushing, of the College, to lodge with him temporarily, and soon after opened his school of the prophets, with three students (Jesse S. Armistead, Robert Burwell and Thomas P. Hunt), in one end of President Cushing's kitchen. The services of Professor James Marsh, of Hampden-Sidney College, were secured to teach the Hebrew language.

On Thursday, January 1, 1824, the Board of Trustees met in the College church, and in the presence of a large congregation the Seminary was formally opened; Dr. Rice was regularly installed as Professor of Theology, and delivered a discourse appropriate to the occasion, based upon 2 Timothy, iii. 16–17.

II. DEVELOPMENT UNDER DR. RICE, 1824–1831.

The whole endowment of the Seminary, on the day of its re-opening, consisted of about $10,000. There was in addition a contingent fund of about $1,000 per annum, made up of contributions from the churches of the Presbytery. But there was no building as yet, nor even a site for one. Both, however, were soon provided, thanks to the ability and energy of the indefatigable founder. Mr. Martin Sailer, a resident of the neighborhood, was prevailed upon to give about five acres for the purpose in view, and in 1825 what is now the eastern end of the old Seminary building was finished. This building, though ample at first, was outgrown in a few years by the increasing number of students. There were only three at first, and four in 1825, but there were nine in 1826, fifteen in 1827, twenty-two in 1828, twenty-seven in 1829, and thirty-eight in 1830.

From the beginning, Dr. Rice and the Financial Agent, the Rev. Robert Roy, (whom the students playfully called Rob Roy), were industriously adding to the funds, so that in about three years, besides a valuable library, purchased from Dr. Rice at a cost of some $8,000, liberal subscriptions had been secured for the endowment of two professorships, one by friends in New York, and the other by friends in Virginia and North Carolina. The New York Professorship was devoted to the support of the teacher of Oriental Literature. The first incumbent of this chair was the Rev. Hiram P. Goodrich, who came to the Seminary as Dr. Rice's assistant in 1827, and was elected professor in the following year.

In 1828 we find Dr. Rice again in the North, raising funds for additional accommodations, and writing back to a friend that the result of his expedition "will be somewhere between $35,000 and $40,000." In 1829 two residences for professors were erected, one by contributions from friends in Boston, and the other by contributions from North Carolina. To the original house erected by Dr. Rice, the old main building was added in 1830.

In 1826 the Seminary was taken under the care of the General Assembly, the trustees of that body taking charge of the funds; and in 1827 the Presbytery of Hanover surrendered the institution to the joint management and control of the Synods of Virginia and North Carolina. In commemoration of this co-partnership, its name was changed to Union Theological Seminary.

In 1831 the great founder died. Enough has already been said to show that John Holt Rice was an epoch-making man, a scholar of rich and varied attainments, a prophet of clear and far-reaching vision, a man "that had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do," and a leader of extraordinary enterprise and skill in practical affairs. The institution began, as we have seen, without buildings or adequate equipment of any kind, but by his ability, energy, and heroic faith, he carried it to speedy and splendid success, making it in an almost incredibly short time one of the leading theological schools of the country. Within seven years it had secured a fair library, a building for lecture-rooms, chapel and dormitories, and two residences, and had nearly forty students and three instructors (the third, appointed in 1831, being the Rev. Elisha Ballantine).

III. Two Decades of Depression, 1831–1851.

In November, 1831, the Rev. George A. Baxter, D. D., President of Washington College, Lexington, succeeded Dr. Rice as Professor of Systematic Theology, and in April, 1834, the Rev. Benjamin M. Smith was appointed Assistant Instructor, a position which he held for four years. We shall speak of Dr. Smith's services again when we come to the time of his permanent connection with the Seminary, twenty years later. In 1835 the Rev. Stephen Taylor, D. D., was elected Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity, being the first incumbent of that chair.

The Faculty was an able one, but the hand of Rice was no longer on the helm; the country was just entering upon a period of industrial depression; and the church was trembling on the verge of a controversy which was destined to split it asunder. The number of students declined; in 1835 there were only twenty. On the issue before the Assembly of 1837, the Faculty divided, Dr. Baxter espousing the cause of the Old School, and Drs. Goodrich and Taylor that of the New. "The students almost unanimously determined to leave the institution unless something was done to remedy this state of things."

In April, 1838, the Faculty called the attention of the Board to the small number of students (nineteen—nine in the Senior Class, eight in the Middle, and two in the Junior), stating that they expected a still smaller number in the next session (and in fact there were only thirteen). Thereupon the Board requested Professors Goodrich and Taylor to resign their positions. To supply the vacancies thus made, the Board elected the Rev. Samuel L. Graham, D. D., Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity, a happy selection from every point of view; and appointed the Rev. Francis S. Sampson, Assistant Instructor, a position which he held for ten years, winning golden opinions on every hand for nobility of character, fervor of piety, fulness of learning and skill in teaching. In 1849 Dr. Sampson was made Professor of Oriental Literature, and occupied this chair during the remaining five years of his life.

In the meantime Dr. Baxter died (1841), and was succeeded in the chair of Systematic Theology by the Rev. Samuel B. Wilson, D. D., who spent the rest of his life, twenty-eight years, in the service of the Seminary.

During these twenty years, for the reasons already referred to, the number of students was small. The total attendance from 1823 to 1850 was, indeed, 250. But in 1850–'51 there were only twelve, in 1851–'52 only eleven, and in 1852–'53 the same number. In that year, however, there were eight in the Junior Class, which gave reason to hope that the point of lowest depression had been reached, and that thenceforth there would be a more encouraging attendance. And so it proved.

IV. A DECADE OF ALTERNATING PROGRESS AND DECLINE, 1851–1861.

Dr. Graham died in 1851, and Dr. Sampson in 1854. In 1853 the Rev. Robert L. Dabney, D. D., was elected Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity, and in 1854 the Rev. Benjamin M. Smith, D. D., was elected Professor of Oriental Literature, two acquisitions the value of which it would be difficult to overstate. The increase in the number of students, which had set in during 1852, continued till 1854-'55, when there were twenty-eight; then for several years it fell off, until 1858-'59, when there were only eighteen. But in the next year it went up with a bound to twice that number, and in 1860–'61 there were thirty-nine, about the same number that had been enrolled in the last year of Dr. Rice's life, thirty years before. But at no time before the war, so far as the records show, were there as many as forty students in attendance during a single year. That is to say, the largest attendance in any year before the war was but little more than half as large as the present annual average attendance.

In 1856 the Board, having completed the endowment of a fourth professorship, that of Biblical Literature and the Interpretation of the New Testament, elected to this chair the Rev. William J. Hoge, pastor of the Westminster Church, Baltimore. Dr. Hoge occupied this position for three years, from 1856 to 1859, when he resigned it to accept a co-pastorate with Dr. Spring in New York City, leaving behind him a memory like the fragrance of costly oil.

In 1860 the Rev. Thomas E. Peck, pastor of the Central Church, Baltimore, was elected Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Polity, Dr. Dabney having been made Adjunct Professor of Systematic Theology. Dr. Peck speedily proved himself the peer of the great men with whom he was associated and for more than thirty years continued to teach successive classes with a wealth of learning, a saintliness of influence, and a perspicuity and power of statement which have never been surpassed in all the history of the institution.

V. During the War, 1861–1865.

The prosperity of the institution was rudely checked by the great conflict into which the country was plunged in 1861. In the autumn of that year the number of students fell to twenty-two, and in the following spring, May 12, 1862, the Faculty's report states that "of the students enrolled, the Board will find present at this time only the following, viz: Messrs. Wharey, Barnett, Flournoy and T. M. McCorkle, all of whom were in the service of their country, were made prisoners at Rich Mountain last summer, were released on parole, and have not been exchanged. The remainder left the Seminary in March under the urgent call of the government for more troops, and are all, or nearly all, now in the army."

The days grew darker instead of brighter. In 1863 only three members of the Board attended the annual meeting.

There was no meeting of the Board in the spring of 1864. In December of that year, however, the Board held a special meeting for the purpose of making some provision for the sustentation of the professors, and "taking some steps to preserve the buildings of the Seminary from the injury inevitably resulting from their continuing vacant, and with a view to do all in the power of the Board to relieve the wants of those made houseless by the war." The records of this meeting contain various indications of the distress of the time. For example, "It was resolved, that for the purpose of making comfortable provision for the support of Rev. Dr. Wilson, and also of Mrs. Dr. Rice, our agent, Rev. S. J. Price, is hereby instructed to make special and immediate application to such persons as he may deem advisable for donations of money and provisions; and that Messrs. C. C. Reed, C. C. Lockett, and F. N. Watkins, of Farmville, be a committee to receive and make distribution of these donations to such extent as may be deemed necessary to their proper maintenance."

"It was resolved, that until further ordered, the professors shall be left to their own discretion as to any engagements for labor elsewhere which they may deem it expedient to make, provided they make such arrangements as they may agree upon among themselves for the instruction of any students who may come to the institution."

"It was resolved, that the agent, Rev. S. J. Price, be allowed a salary of three thousand dollars per annum, and that he be allowed to collect the same, if he desires it, in provisions." It is hardly necessary to remind the reader of the fact that this salary was not so munificent as those figures would at first suggest, as not long after men were known to pay $500 for a pair of boots.

In 1864–'65 only one student attended, Mr. William L. Bailey. General Lee surrendered at Appomattox on the 9th of April, 1865. Dr. Peck, in his report that year as Intendant, informs the Board that the United States soldiers visited the premises on the 7th and 11th of April, but did no damage to the property of the institution.

On Monday, May 8, 1865, "at the hour appointed by the constitution, divine service was celebrated in the chapel of Union Theological Seminary, Prince Edward. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Wm. Henry Foote, D. D., first Vice-President of the Board of Directors (and the only member present), from Isaiah xxxv. 10: 'And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.'" Then the exercises of the Seminary were adjourned, to recommence on the second Thursday in September, 1865. (Dr. Foote died in November, 1869, after a service of more than thirty years as a director.)

VI. FIRST DECADE AFTER THE WAR—GROWTH, 1865–1875.

During the war the Board had invested $46,000 of the funds of the Seminary in Confederate States bonds. These were, of course, a total loss, as were also the investments in bank stock. The State securities held by the institution (Virginia and North Carolina bonds), it was thought, would be ultimately productive (as they were), but in that first year of stunning collapse they yielded nothing. The Seminary had not a cent of income. In June, 1865, a kind Christian lady of Baltimore had visited Hampden-Sidney, bringing with her various substantial evidences of the generosity of her noble people and their interest in our stricken community. She proposed, moreover, that one of the professors should accompany her home on her return, assuring the Faculty that by a personal explanation of the conditon of the Seminary important aid could be secured towards keeping the institution open. Dr. B. M. Smith accordingly returned with her to Baltimore, and there and in New York prosecuted an agency extending over two or three months, and resulting in the contribution of nearly $8,000 for the temporary relief of the Seminary; and this sum, together with $1,500 collected in Virginia, did tide the institution over that perilous year. Twenty-four students were enrolled in 1865–'66, most of whom had been in the army.

At the meeting of the Board in 1866 the Directors issued an address to the Christian public, stating that it was desirable to raise $100,000 for the Seminary as soon as possible.

During this first decade after the war it became more and more evident that Dr. Smith had come to the kingdom for such a time as this. In 1866 he entered upon that remarkable financial agency which, by 1876, resulted in the addition of over $90,000 to the funds. Of this amount $30,000 were given in 1877 by Mr. Cyrus H. McCormick, of Chicago, for the endowment of the Professorship of Oriental Literature, and $30,000 by Mr. Henry Young, of New York, in 1871, for the endowment of the Professorship of New Testament Exegesis.

Dr. Wilson died August 1, 1869, having been for twenty-eight years Professor of Systematic Theology. On the 1st of January, 1870, the Rev. Henry C. Alexander, D. D., an accomplished scholar and golden-hearted gentleman, entered upon his duties as Professor of Biblical Literature and the Interpretation of the New Testament.

During the latter half of this decade the increase in the number of students was very notable, running up from thirty-five in in 1869–'70 to seventy-seven in 1874–'75, the increase being due in part to the temporary closing of the seminary at Columbia, S. C.

VII. SECOND DECADE AFTER THE WAR—DECLINE IN ATTENDANCE, 1875–1885.

For the next seven years there was a steady falling off in the attendance, the number in 1881–'82 being only forty-five. Nor was there any marked improvement in the remaining three years of this decade. The material interests of the Seminary, however, continued to prosper, this period being specially notable for the endowment of scholarships for aiding young men in their preparation for the ministry.

In 1883 the Rev. W. W. Moore, pastor of the church at Millersburg, Ky., was appointed Assistant Instructor in Oriental Literature.

In the summer of the same year Dr. Dabney resigned his position as Professor of Systematic Theology. Dr. Peck was elected to succeed him, and the Rev. James F. Latimer, Ph. D., D. D., pastor of the Second Church, Memphis, Tenn., was elected to the chair of Ecclesiastical History and Polity, made vacant by the transfer of Dr. Peck. The Presbytery of Memphis refused to release Dr. Latimer from his charge and the Board elected another gentleman to the position. He also declined, and the chair remained vacant until May, 1884, when Dr. Latimer was again elected. He entered upon his duties in September of the same year.

VIII. Third Decade After the War—Gains and Losses, 1885–1895.

In May, 1883, the Board had initiated measures for the establishment of a fifth professorship, to be known as the Chair of English Biblical Study and Pastoral Theology. At the meeting of 1889, in consideration of the liberality of the members of the Second Church of Louisville, Ky., it was ordered by the Board that in accordance with the wishes of some of these generous donors, and in honor of an eminent servant of God and a distinguished alumnus of this Seminary, the new chair, when established, should be known as the "Stuart Robinson Professorship." In May, 1891, the Rev. T. C. Johnson, pastor of the Third Church, Louisville, was chosen to fill this position, and entered upon the work of the chair in the following September.

In the meantime, Dr. Alexander had resigned the chair of Biblical Literature and the Interpretation of the New Testament, and at the same meeting (May, 1891) the Rev. C. C. Hersman, D. D., LL. D., Chancellor of the Southwestern Presbyterian University, was elected to succeed him.

Dr. Latimer died February 29, 1892. At the following meeting of the Board (May, 1892), Dr. Johnson was transferred to the chair of Ecclesiastical History and Polity, and the Rev. T. R. English, D. D., pastor of the church at Yorkville, S. C., was elected to the professorship of English Biblical Study and Pastoral Theology. Dr. Smith died (at Petersburg, Va.,) March 14, 1893, having spent more than forty years of his life in the service of the Seminary. In the autumn of the same year Dr. Peck died (October 2, 1893), after thirty-three years of continuous service as a professor. At the request of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, the Rev.

C. R. Vaughan, D. D., consented to teach Dr. Peck's classes in Theology for the rest of the session, and immediately entered upon the work. In the following spring (1894) Dr. Vaughan was elected Professor of Systematic and Polemic Theology and continued to discharge the duties of the position till May, 1896, when he was succeeded by the Rev. G. B. Strickler, D. D., LL. D., pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Atlanta.

IX. THE REMOVAL TO RICHMOND, 1895–1898.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors in May, 1894, three different propositions were received from as many different sources, all entirely independent of each other, looking to the removal of the Seminary to a more central and accessible site, in order to arrest the drift of our candidates for the ministry to other institutions and secure the steady and large growth of the Seminary throughout the future. The question was not a new one. Ever since the war the directors had from time to time given it anxious consideration. The great difficulty which for thirty years had deterred them from taking decisive action in regard to the removal, which nevertheless they knew to be inevitable sooner or later, was the apparent impossibility of securing the large sum of money which would be required to provide new buildings.

But after full discussion at the meeting in 1894, the Board appointed a committee to receive and consider offers of sites and inducements. In May, 1895, the committee reported that twelve sites had been offered, but recommended that no proposition for removal should be considered unless accompanied with a guarantee of not less than $100,000 in addition to a site. It was at once proposed that if the people of Richmond, which was obviously the best location for the institution, would raise $50,000, an equal amount would be raised outside of Richmond. This was accomplished chiefly through the munificence of Mr. George W. Watts, of Durham, N. C., a member of the Board of Directors, and Mr. W. W. Spence, of Baltimore, Md., whose generous gifts carried the total amount far beyond the $50,000 at first proposed. The people of Richmond gave a beautiful site of twelve acres in Ginter Park, a highly improved suburban section, and contributions of money, materials and land, aggregating about $50,000. The Board of Directors promptly recommended the acceptance of this offer, and in 1895 the Synods of Virginia and North Carolina ordered the removal to be made. Eight substantial buildings were erected, and in October, 1898, the Seminary took up its work in its new quarters at Richmond. The wisdom of the Board's action in transplanting the institution was quickly justified, the attendance of students showing an increase of nearly forty per cent. during the first year in Richmond. The great decline in the number of candidates for the ministry in all branches of the church and in every part of the world set in just at that time, and yet the Seminary has continued to hold its own. Its attendance seems to have been less affected by that decline than that of any other institution of its class.

X. A DECADE OF PROGRESS, 1898–1908.

In May, 1903, the controlling Synods were memorialized to empower the Board to create the office of President of the Seminary, provided the way should be clear. The Synods having expressed their concurrence, the Board, at its regular meeting in May, 1904, created the office of President and unanimously elected the Rev. Prof. Walter W. Moore, D. D., LL. D., to the position, and he was formally inducted into the office in Watts Chapel at the Seminary on Tuesday evening, May 9, 1905.

In 1906–1907, through the active agency of the Rev. A. D. P. Gilmour, an endowment of about $50,000 was secured for the Professorship of Systematic Theology, and the chair was named in honor of the late Rev. Robert L. Dabney, D. D., LL. D.

In 1908 Dr. Hersman retired from active service as professor and was made professor emeritus; Dr. English was transferred to the chair of Biblical Literature and Interpretation of the New Testament; the Rev Theron H. Rice, D. D., pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church of Atlanta, Ga., was elected Professor of the English Bible and Practical Theology; and the Rev. A. D. P. Gilmour, B. D., was elected Associate Professor of Hebrew and the Interpretation of the Old Testament.

In the same year (1908) the members of the Presbyterian churches of Richmond began the erection of the large, handsome and well appointed building, which, in commemoration of their generosity, bears the name of Richmond Hall.

The value of the buildings and grounds (including Westwood), estimated by actual cost, is $205,365.60. The value of the other assets is $392,990.25; so that the gross value of the Seminary's assets, according to the treasurer's report in May, 1908, is $598,355.85.

With such advantages of location and equipment, and with the continued blessing of God, the Seminary may well be expected to do a great work for the Church throughout the future.

EXPLANATIONS.

1. The word Alumni denotes all who have been matriculated and have been students in the Seminary for any length of time.

2. The time spent in this Seminary is indicated by a figure in a parenthesis: (2) denotes two years; (—1) less than one and (1+) more than one year. So fractions of 2 or 3 years are denoted. If a graduate, Gr., is added to the figure, as (3 Gr.) or (2 Gr.), &c. If the student has spent any time in some other seminary before coming to this, or after leaving, the name of that seminary is given before or after the indication of time in this, as the case may be, and the time and graduation, (if a graduate,) expressed as above, but not in a parenthesis. The class entered is denoted by mid. or sen. preceding the number of the year, thus (mid. 2) denotes entry in middle class and stay of 2 years. The name of each student occurs with the class with which he was matriculated, and not with the class with which he was graduated.

3. Employment of a student, or means of preparation for the Seminary, or both, are stated just preceding the above notation of time spent in this Seminary. Employment previous to college course, when definitely stated, is inserted just before degree and name of college.

4. In the catalogue of alumni, when the minister's work in any place or places is combined in the time longer spent in another, that work is stated parenthetically, between the date of beginning the longer service and the date of its close. Thus under No. 89 is "P. Clarkesville '40—(S. S. and then P. Shiloh, '40–'42)—'46, which means, P. of Clarkesville '40–'46, and while thus employed, also S. S. and then P. Shiloh '40–'42. If only one date follows the name of the church or churches, in parenthesis, it denotes the beginning of that service; then the figures following the dash after the parenthesis shows that this intervening service closed co-incidently with the close of the longer service. Thus No. 655 is "P. Byrd, '81—(Hebron and Rivanna '82—; and S. S.

Powhatan '83—)—'84," which means, that the service of Hebron and Rivanna and Powhatan, commencing '82 and '83, respectively, closed with that of Byrd, which commenced '81, and ended '84.

5. In the catalogue of officers, the time when the service commenced is indicated by the date (in years) opposite the name, in the first or left-hand column of dates, and the time when the service ended by the date in the second column.

6. An asterisk preceding the name of an officer or student denotes death; an asterisk following the date of the close of an officer's service denotes death while in office, and following the name of a student, death while a student.

7. The catalogue of Directors and Trustees is confined to those who actually served, and makes no note of appointees by the Synods who never attended a meeting and qualified by taking the pledge of office. No notice is taken of the short time in which the Presbytery of Winchester, while belonging to another Synod, was specially entitled to a representative, since during that time the representation of the Synod of Virginia was reduced by one minister and one elder.

8. If a student is not known to have been a graduate, stu. is prefixed to the name of the college or university. Degrees of A. B. and A. M., when reported, are copied into the Record.

9. When the name of a Presbytery has been given connected with Licensure, if ordination has been by the same Presbytery, its name is not repeated. The same rule is observed in recording other relations of a Minister to Presbytery. The name of the Presbytery is not repeated till a new presbyterial relation may have occurred.

10. In many instances where the place of birth is not reported, the place of residence at the time of entering the Seminary appears immediately following the name of the alumnus.
